

Human Writes
Light a Candle
Say a Prayer

Over 3,000 men and women are imprisoned on America's Death Row. America remains the only civilised western democracy on earth which perpetuates this barbaric punishment. People sentenced to death are mostly drawn from America's poor and dispossessed. Many could not afford good legal representation and most did not have fair trials.

If you'd like to do more than light a candle and say a prayer,
join Human Writes

Human Writes provides support in the form of letter writing from correspondents in Britain. This can be fulfilling and enlightening for both the prisoner and the correspondent. If you'd like to become a correspondent or would like to know more about what Human Writes does, contact:
